the junior and senior classes of east fairmont high school humbly present this lowly 1938 edition of the orion to the honorable student body as an everlasting memory of the past school year.

with all its wonders and its beauties, it is not strange that orion should be one of the most familiar and most admired of all the constellations. it represents the giant orion rising in the east to do battle with the mighty taurus. through orion runs the celestial equator, bringing to mind the magic spell of the orient and its ancient sages.

thus we look to orion as a fitting name and for the theme of this 1938 edition of east fairmont's annual.

dedication

to those east siders who, with the spirit of true americans gave freely of their time and money toward the betterment of our educational system and a nine months term of school, we the orion staff dedicate this, our nineteen-hundred-and-thirty-eight annual as a token of appreciation to you, our friends and parents.

appreciation

the orion staff wishes to express sincere appreciation to the following people who, although not on the staff, gave unselfishly of their time and talents in helping to publish this book:

william hogan

that which is to come in this volume is the compiled works of the nineteen-hundred-and-thirty-eight orion staff, we present them for your consideration.

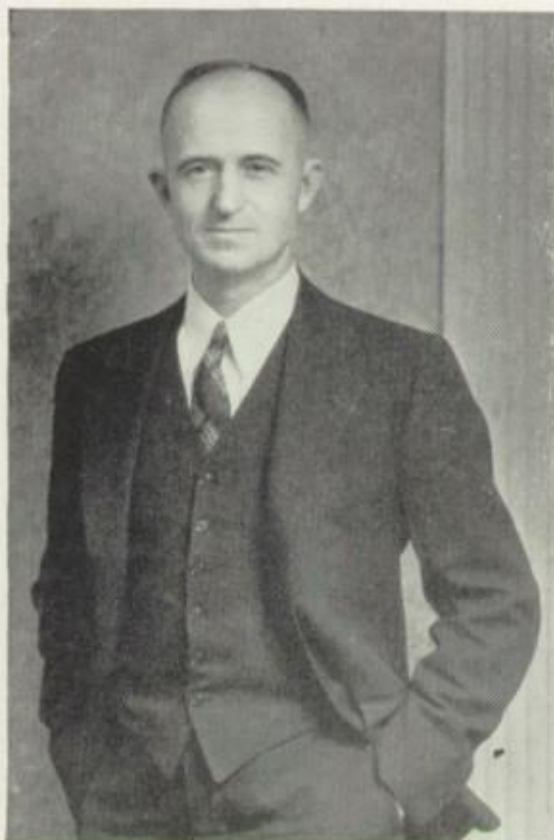

when the sun peeped over the rim of the hill, on this, the land of the rising sun, last september thirteenth, there began another eventful term for east side high. we the orion staff have attempted to record these events for your pleasure in the years to come. for we believe the purpose of any year book is to be more or less an impersonal diary which you can pick up with a friend and review a year in school, recorded in picture and prose.

we hope your record will be both an inspiration and a challenge. may you be able to say, "i have done well, but i can do better."

oliver wendell holmes expresses the true intention of any year book.

"a health to our future—a sigh for our past, we love, we remember, we hope to the last;
and for all the base lies the almanac's hold, while we've youth in our hearts, we can never grow old!"

—the editor.

"in four ways he was a gentleman. his own life was modest; he honoured those whom he served; he was a kind shepherd to the people and was just in his calls upon them."

—confucius.

w. c. whaley

one of the highest tributes one can pay to a principal is to say that the students like him. william claudé whaley, our principal, has shown his ability to fill this capacity.

mr. whaley received his a. b. and m. s. degrees from west virginia university. his brilliant ideas of citizenship has enabled east fairmont high school to have one of the most unique systems of government of any high school in the united states. in the nine years that mr. whaley has been principal he has proven that he can cooperate, help, advise, and sympathize with the students in such a way that he will never be forgotten in our school.

during the school crisis of the current year his leadership has had its best influence on all of us.

mr whaley, the student body appreciates the way you handled this severe crisis, for in you we have found a kind and generous leader. we know that if ever you leave our school something would go with you which could never be replaced.

we of the orion staff thank you for your kind cooperation with us.

the east fairmont high school student council the student council of east fairmont high school was first organized early in the school year, 1930-31. it consisted of the president and two elected members from each of the four classes, constituting a council of twelve members. one teacher sponsor was selected by each of the four classes as their advisor to the council.

this council was not particularly active since it was entirely inexperienced and there were no school traditions or practices for it to follow that originated through student action. it acted on a few matters pertaining to school discipline and studied the work of other councils from which it could get written reports. it left a record of its meetings for the guidance of the council in later years.

for the school year 1931-32 the council undertook the task of getting community authorization for dancing at the noon hour in the gymnasium in the main school building. it failed in this attempt and was not active much of the year. in 1932-33, it was organized again and failed once more to get the dancing privilege at the noon hour, but remained fairly active in some other matters throughout the school year. in 1933-34 our council was organized as it now is constituted, with a president, vice president, secretary-treasurer and sergeant-at-arms, elected at large by the entire student body and one member from each of the home rooms, elected by the home room membership, making at this time a total of thirty members.

since the school year 1933-34 and the inauguration of a student guidance program under a student citizenship code, the council shares practically on even terms with the faculty, not alone, in enforcing and administering the code, but also in extending it and in modifying its provisions, too. there is no problem arising in the high school that the council cannot attempt to solve. the faculty does not change rules under the code without the council's cooperation and help. in other words, we live under rules made by the consent of the student representatives in the council, many of which were initiated by them or altered by them into its present form.

at the beginning of the school year of 1936-1937, the largest freshman class ever enrolled at east fairmont entered this school. because of our size and our activity, we were an outstanding class. we elected neale burner as president and at the end of the year we voted him the outstanding member of our class.

at the beginning of the school year of 1937-1938, we "freshies" returned as sophomores. class officers were elected and are as follows: president, neale burner; vice president, marcellus fitzwater; secretary, harley pyles.

we, the sophomores, have again made a good record, in that we have been very active in social and athletic affairs of this school. the sophomore girls and boys basketball teams were both runners up in the class tournament, and several boys were very active on the varsity teams.

we, the sophomores of 1937-1938, feel that our two years at east fairmont high school have been pleasantly and beneficially spent.

this year has been an outstanding year for the east fairmont high school band.

under the leadership of the new drum major, chester dodd, and the four sponsors, the band marched in the safety day, santa claus, and the east and west parades.

not having lost any members last year by graduation, it increased its number and proved worthy of the praise given it by the students.

through the efforts of mr. arnett, band instructor, new music was acquired.

national thespians

the national thespians dramatic honor society for high schools is a non-secret, non-social, and non-profitable organization, devoted to the betterment of dramatics in the secondary schools. troupe number three of east fairmont high school is one of the earliest members of this great national organization.

we feel that the advantages of being a member of the society have been fully realized. while the membership is intentionally kept to a small number the club is one of the most active and progressive units of our school.

each school year finds this club with a full program for the term, consisting of two full length plays, two chapel programs, the state contest play, two parties and a banquet at the close of the school year. this year our dramatic work consisted of: "the arrival of kitty", and "outward bound," three-act plays "the game of chess" and "sparkin'," two one-act plays; and the state contest play: entitled "the giant stairs."

officers of the club are:

the hi-y club has as its purpose, the banding together of a group of purposeful older high school boys, who are seeking christian ideals, for themselves and the social group of which they are a part. they take for their aim: "to create, maintain, and extend, throughout the school and the community, the high standards of christian character."

the east fairmont hi-y is sponsored by mr. walter glenn, with mr. earl straight and mr. lloyd brown as assistant sponsors. the officers are: ellsworth cain, president; walter brown, vice-president; john carpenter, secretary; jack rosenberger, treasurer; goff rollins, sergeant-at-arms; and harry cronin, parliamentarian.

among the varied activities of the year have been the group attendance at many of local churches, a mid-year spaghetti banquet at which dr. maxwell spoke, and the building of a new and more complete constitution. some other activities of the year were: the chapel program, an outstanding basketball team, and the "best girl banquet." the grand climax of the activities for the year is the october steak roast, which all members look forward to annually.

at the end of the year 1936-37, the old latin club was placed on a re-organized basis. it was renamed "res publica romana" which translated, means "the roman republic." the heads of the roman republic were two consuls elected yearly, holding equal power. in this modern roman republic are also two consuls these preside over meetings of the senate, which is composed of all present and former officers of the group, now in school.

the censor keeps the club rolls and records. the quaestors attend to all financial matters. the aediles plan programs and other activities.

all of the above officials must have been in the club one year previous to taking office. all such members are known as patricians.

the tribune must be elected by and from the plebeians or students who are in the club for their first year. the tribune presides at all club meetings.

the constitution is known as "duodecim tabulae" or "twelve tables."

in every way possible the club is patterned after the ancient roman state. progress has been made this year and more will be made in the years to come.

french club

the french club is an organization for those who have studied the french language. the sponsor of the club is miss martha wayman. the officers are: president—helen nichols; vice-president—joan hawkins; secretary and treasurer—mary alice jardine. the object of the club is to promote pupil interest in the lives of the people they are studying. the most important activity of the year was the annual "who's who tea" at the end of the school year.

the girl reserves is an organization formed primarily to get girls to take an interest in, and to appreciate the higher things in life.

this year betty morgan and gerry horner have served as presidents of the senior group and of the junior group, respectively.

one of the interesting activities of the year was the "dad and daughter dinner."

the meetings are held the first and third friday of every six weeks.

the girl reserves organization does many helpful things that are not made public and tries to be useful in every phase of the school work.

the officers of the senior group are:

the 1938 football season in review east vs. farmington

the east high yellow jackets lost the first game of the season to farmington. when the final gun sounded the score stood 8 to 0 in favor of the farmington farmers.

east vs. fairview

east fairmont high's smooth-working football machine romped roughshod over the fairview gridders to chalk up a 21 to 0 victory.

east vs. shinnston

a fighting east high team went down to defeat after playing a thrilling game. but the breaks were against them and shinnston won by a score of 7 to 13.

east vs. morgantown

the bees battled morgantown high gridders on even terms for three quarters, but weakened in the final period, and morgantown won. the score was 13-0.

east vs. mannington

the bees upset a favored and heretofore undefeated mannington eleven with a fine exhibition of the pigskin sport. a pass, muto to mazzie, in the last minute to play, spelled defeat for the green and white wave. the score was 6-0.

east vs. grafton

the east high gridders dropped a hard-fought game to grafton in a blinding snowstorm. although the bees rolled up eight first downs to five for the opponents, the bearcats took advantage of the breaks to chalk up a 19 to 0 victory.

east vs. weston

due to a change in schedule, the Bees journeyed to weston and lost the game. the minute men proved too strong for the east high gridders and handed them a 21 to 0 defeat.

east vs. barrackville

the east high yellow jackets, led by johnny talerico, speedy halfback, defeated a stubborn barrackville machine by the score of 14 to 6 at south side park. ed hughes, paul brandimarte and cleo white were the outstanding defensive performers for the gold and blue.

east vs. west

the most thrilling conceivable climax to a brilliant season of football came when east fairmont locked horns with the invincible west fairmont outfit, and whipped them conclusively, to avenge the loss suffered last year. east fairmont smashed, battered, butchered and rode roughshod over the polar bears to take the long end of a 19-14 count.

the thousands who witnessed the east-west classic still shudder from the gridiron thrills heaped upon them during the tilt as the stands settled down for a desperate game of football and uttered silent prayers for the success of the east high boys. they were immediately electrified by a run back of the kick-off for a touchdown. it began to look like an easy east win.

after this, however, the yellow jackets lapsed into stage fright, and west took advantage of it to score fourteen points in the last half. in the second stanza the bees took a new lease on life, fathomed their opponents tactics, and rolled up two touchdowns. it was the most spectacular comeback seen around rosier field in years.

to mention any particular names, however, without touching on the merits of every single man in the play would be an insult. all of them excelled themselves in this, their last game of the season.

east fairmont high school bids farewell to boys who have served loyally and faithfully to the "gold and blue." to show our appreciation to these athletes the lettermen's club presented them with blue coat sweaters with gold service bars and the letter "e" on the left side.

a sizzling second half comeback enabled the polar bears to topple the bees, 40 to 27, in a nip and tuck conflict. for three periods it was anybody's ball game with the bees setting a dizzy pace during the first half until late in the third period when they weakened and lost in the final stanza. rule netted 8 points.

the 1938 cross country team has had one of the most successful seasons that the runners have enjoyed since the sport was initiated as a competitive sport. wheeling territory was invaded to the tune of 18 to 37, only to run a close score at cannonsburg to take second place. traveling to newark, new jersey, to compete in the twelfth annual national cross country race on thanksgiving day, the bees crossed the finish line to retain the mason-dixon trophy.

acting captain, henry clay helm, covered the two and one-half miles in 13:44 for seventeenth place at the newark meet. the other bees came in at positions to total 621 points. other members of the cross country team were clarence lynn, junior carpenter, gloy stalnaker, rudolph williams, ellsworth cain, jack rosenberger, denver holcomb, and glenn tallman.

in the last tri-state meet at bethany the harriers took second place to capture new laurels and proved to be a most powerful unit in the athletic career of east fairmont.

hopes for winning 1939 teams are darkened somewhat by the fact that henry helm, clarence lynn, ellsworth cain, denver holcomb and jack rosenberger all are to graduate this spring.

second row—greco, huff, bosley, weiss, antolick, anselene, jaynes, foley.

at this time of the season it is hard to tell what kind of a track team will represent the school, but from all indications it will be a fast one. several of the best men of last year's team are not back, but their places will be ably filled by the new material that has come into the school since then.

"we are going to take part in the big state meet at clarksburg, and we are going to take part in a manner that will make some of our opponents sit up and take notice as well as get up and stretch their muscles."

the team is under the proficient management of coach lewis.

intra-mural athletics

intramural sports began at the east fairmont high school in 1932. through the excellent leadership of mary wilson and earl sprouse, the intramural sports have been a great success this year.

the class tournament opened this year with the freshman boys playing the sophomore boys and the junior girls vs. the senior girls. both of these games were thrilling and were witnessed by a large crowd. the sophomore boys and the junior girls emerged victorious in the opening round. the sophomore lads eliminated the freshman 27 to 21 and the junior lassies defeated the seniors 24 to 15. both games were interesting, hard fought affairs.

the second night of the class tournament found the junior boys vs. the senior boys playing a hard fighting battle and the freshman girls vs. the sophomore girls giving all they had to their teams. the winners of these two games namely: sophomore girls and the sophomore boys, met the junior girls and the senior boys in the finals, which were played the following night. the senior boys tackled the sophomore boys while the sophomore girls tried to halt the junior girls, but the senior boys and the junior girls crashed through with victories over the sophomore lads and lassies to cop the annual east fairmont class basketball tournament before a large crowd at the east high gym. a last rally enabled the senior boys to trim the sophomore boys to the tune of 28 to 21 and the junior girls who have never been defeated since entering high school and have taken the tournament for three straight years easily trounced the sophomore "cuties" 41 to 16 in the finals.

many players were outstanding in the climax to the east fairmont basketball season, the annual class tournament.

earl sprouse and mary wilson, east fairmont's physical education instructors, directed the meet and mary wilson refereed the girls' division while joe talerico handled the whistle for the boys. martha gibbs of fairmont state college was umpire for the girls' games.

many valuable prizes donated by local merchants were awarded to outstanding players in both divisions, which were as follows:

"noonhour basketball league"

the noon hour basketball league under the supervision of mr. earl sprouse has grown into an interesting past-time for students who lunch at school.

kingmont, the last year's champions, are still going strong this year with an undefeated and untied basketball team.

piney run is running second with only one defeat to their schedule. kingmont is a strong and rugged, sharpshooting team with such experienced players as jack carpenter, don richards and henry martelli. norwood, the last year's runner up for first place honors, lost most of their players and consequently they have been defeated twice, once by the kingmont champions and once by piney run.

kingmont winner of first half—won 10 lost 2—captain, vincent. number of teams entered—8. piney run and norwood have the same number of wins and losses.

"saturday morning league" about 115 boys play in the saturday morning league. this is divided into three groups. each of these sections contains four teams of eight players each. the "midgets" consist of boys weighing less than 115 lbs. the light weight is composed of players between the weights of 115 and 129 lbs. the heavy weight portion holds the cagers who balance the scales at more than 129 lbs.

the names of each of the teams are as follows: celtics, passing fools, shooting stars, bees, all belonging to the midget league.

the light weight league consists of: mountaineers, polar bears, palatiners, and big five.

the heavy weight league consists of: blue eagles, rockets, packers and five aces.

"girls bus league"

mary wilson's keenly organized bus league for girls certainly offers some entertainment for those noon-hour loafers.

the girls play each tuesday and thursday at noon in the old gym. six teams compose the league.

the teams are as follows: kingmont, piney run, town: jordon, colfax, hopewell.

the champions are the "town" team with five victories and no defeats.

"noon soft ball team" (girls)

this is composed of two teams "the gold team" and "the blue team." the blue team has to their credit two victories and three defeats. while the gold team has three victories and two defeats, making the gold team champions.

"class volleyball league"

the volleyball team always draws interest to sports lovers. this year the freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior girls reported with good hard fighting teams. the freshmen had three victories and five defeats; sophomores had two victories and one defeat; the juniors had three victories and no defeats, while the seniors had two defeats and no victories. the returns: "the winners"—"juniors."

"bus league tournaments"

the boys' bus league tournament is held at the noon hour. this is similar to the girls bus league tournament. the teams entered this year are: kingmont, colfax, rock lake, piney run, hopewell, jordan, greenwave, and norwood. these games have been played during different noon hours and norwood met kingmont in the finals. the score was 25 to 24, kingmont being the winner.

"ping pong tournament"

many boys participate in the ping pong tournament. different games are run off at different times. all matches are 2 out of 3 games of 21 points each. the finals are run off at the night of the sports carnival.

"inner club league"

different clubs of the school take part in this. hi-y won in the finals with the thespians and latin clubs tied for second place.

"boxing"

forty-eight boys participated in the boxing tournament. they were divided into seven different weight classes. the finals in this tournament were held during the sports carnival.

"sports carnival"

the sports carnival is directed by mr. sprouse. this creates much interest among the students of east fairmont because finals in the wrestling and boxing tournaments are held then. ping pong, tumbling and basketball are also included in the program. the object of the carnival is to summarize and bring to a close the different intra-mural sports activities of the year. east park grade school entered their baby tumblers and a group of dancers. east high girls had dancing, pyramids, tumbling and the finals of the noon hour basketball tournament. the most spectacular event was the living statues posed by joe egidi and clifton scritchfield.

our thanks and appreciation go to mary wilson and earl sprouse for the success of intra-mural sports for the year of 1937-38. keep up the good work.
